What has America Become?

Editor,

Has America become the land of the special interest and home of the double standard?

Lets see: if we lie to the Congress it's a felony and if the congress lies to us its just politics; if we dislike a black person, we're racist and if a black dislikes whites, it's their 1st Amendment right; the government spends millions to rehabilitate criminals and they do almost nothing for the victims; in public schools you can teach that homosexuality is OK, but you better not use the word God in the process; you can kill an unborn child, but it's wrong to execute a mass murderer; we don't burn books in America, we now rewrite them; we got rid of the communist and socialist threat by renaming them progressives; we are unable to close our border with Mexico, but have no problem protecting the 38th parallel in Korea; if you protest against President Obama's policies you're a terrorist, but if you burned an American flag or George Bush in effigy it was your 1st Amendment right.

You can have pornography on TV or the internet, but you better not put a nativity scene in a public park during Christmas; we have eliminated all criminals in America, they are now called sick people; we can use a human fetus for medical research, but it's wrong to use an animal.

We take money from those who work hard for it and give it to those who don't want to work; we all support the Constitution, but only when it supports our political ideology; we still have freedom of speech, but only if we are being politically correct; parenting has been replaced with Ritalin and video games; the land of opportunity is now the land of hand outs; the similarity between Hurricane Katrina and the gulf oil spill is that neither president did anything to help.

And how do we handle a major crisis today? The government appoints a committee to determine who's at fault, then threatens them, passes a law, raised our taxes; tells us the problem is solved so they can get back to their reelection campaign.

What happened to the land of the free and home of the brave?

---Ken Huber of Tawas City

Fathom the hypocrisy of a Government that requires every citizen to prove they are insured.... but not everyone must prove they are a citizen.

Quote of The Day from Ben Stein

Dear Friends,

What a whirlwind last week was! After fourteen town halls in one week, I am only one shy from hitting 100 since last January! We'll keep going until we visit every county in the Big First. Pictures are available on both my Facebook page and my Flickr page. We discussed many topics during the town halls, ranging from taxes to energy to health care to immigration to debt. While of course it is impossible to sum up 14 one-hour meetings into a few sentences, I think it is fair to say that Kansans are fed up with Washington. Unlike many inside the Beltway, most Kansans believe that getting the economy back on track requires less government, not more. There is no need for additional overspending, over borrowing, and over regulating to return America to a prosperity she once knew. America needs a serious plan that balances the budget, reins in out-of-control regulations, and meets our obligations to our seniors. In refusing to fulfill the promises made to Americans to cut spending, Washington is leaving future generations a massive legacy of debt. It used to be that you left things better than you found them; what happened to that practice? Need for Obama-Care Repeal Intensifies!! In last week's update I talked about how three of my colleagues and I introduced The State Health Flexibility Act in order to empower states to serve better the health care of their poor. By granting the states a Medicaid block grant - free of burdensome red tape and big federal government mandates - states can be more responsible and accountable. The majority of our states – but not Kansas – now dedicate larger shares of their budgets to Medicaid than to K-12 education. The ballooning costs are due in part to states having to meet these massive federal requirements that may or may not prove best for Kansas. Rather than more rules from Washington, our states need greater flexibility. Rather than more spending, our taxpayers deserve accountability for the money that is already spent. The challenges facing Medicaid are only going to get worse. Not only is the program not administered the best, many current beneficiaries are receiving subpar care and providers are not being reimbursed sufficiently. And worst of all, the Medicaid rolls will soon EXPLODE in numbers. The President's new health care law is expected to add at least 17 million and up to 25 million more people to Medicaid – and at a cost of $118 billion to the states! On top of that, the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office released new numbers this week showing that as many as 20 million people could lose their employer-provided health insurance as a result of the President's health care law. Those 20 million people could end up on Medicaid, further worsening the existing problems. With this news it is even more apparent that we need to repeal ObamaCare NOW! There is no time to waste in taking this destructive law off the books. It is bad for patients, it is bad for our providers, and it is bad for hardworking taxpayers and America's fiscal health. While we look forward to the Supreme Court's decision on the constitutionality of the law, it is important to remember that the Supreme Court can evaluate only the constitutionality – not the merits of the law. Even if the Court does say it is within the law, it does not make it good policy. Farm Bill Field Hearing: On April 20, 2012 at 9 AM the Committee on Agriculture will host an official farm bill field hearing in Dodge City, Kansas. I look forward to hosting my colleagues in Kansas, especially Committee Chairman Frank Lucas (R-OK) and Ranking Member Collin Peterson (D-MN). I hope you will be able to attend. Opportunities for Teens & Young Adults: Military Service Academy Nominations: Do you know a young man or woman interested in attending one of the nation's military service academies? If so, please encourage him or her to consider applying to our office for nomination. More information is available at <http://huelskamp.house.gov/nominations>. Art Competition: Do you know a high school artist who wants to have his or her work displayed in the U.S. Capitol? Artists in the First District are invited to submit their works for the 2012 Congressional Arts Competition. More information is available at <http://huelskamp.house.gov/artcompetition>. Essay Competition: The U.S. Capitol Historical Society is sponsoring an essay competition for students in grades 6-12. The first-annual competition is accepting compositions on the topic of "Making Democracy Work." Please note this competition is hosted solely by USCHS and not individual member offices. More information is available at: <http://www.uschs.org>. Guests in the Office: While I was in Kansas, DC staff had the opportunity to meet with Tuck Duncan with the Kansas Public Transportation Association; Ken Mishler with the Kansas Foundation for Medical Care; Bruce Nystrom, on behalf of the Kansas Psychological Association; Greg Hildenbrand with Life Star of Kansas; Kent Cornish and the delegation from the Kansas Association of Broadcasters; Dr. Frederick Britten and Marla Staab, both of Ft. Hays State, representing the Speech-Language-Hearing Association; Terry Holdren of Kansas Farm Bureau; Julie Cayton at Emporia State University and other professors from other Kansas colleges with the TRIO program; Phil Bradley with the Kansas Licensed Beverage Association; Tracy Streeter with the Kansas Water Office; Greg DuMars, City Manager of Lindsborg, Tim Maier, General Manager of the McPherson Board of Public Utilities; and K-State students representing the Kansas Agriculture and Rural Leadership (KARL) program.

I received this in an email and is all “too” true!!

In 1887 Alexander Tyler, a Scottish history professor at the University of Edinburgh, had this to say about the fall of the Athenian Republic some 2,000 years prior:

"A democracy is always temporary in nature; it simply cannot exist as a permanent form of government.

A democracy will continue to exist up until the time that voters discover that they can vote themselves generous gifts from the public treasury.

From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidates who promise the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that every democracy will finally collapse over loose fiscal policy, (which is) always followed by a dictatorship."

"The average age of the world's greatest civilizations from the beginning of history, has been about 200 years. During those 200 years, these nations always progressed through the following sequence:

From bondage to spiritual faith; From spiritual faith to great courage; From courage to liberty;
From liberty to abundance; From abundance to complacency; From complacency to apathy;
From apathy to dependence; From dependence back into bondage.

This will be the truth of our nation IF Obama is reelected in 2012!!

Read as many times as you need to. Just be sure you understand what you are reading!!

Professor Joseph Olson of Hamline University School of Law in St. Paul, Minnesota points out some interesting facts concerning the last Presidential election:

Number of States won by:	Obama: 19	McCain: 29
Square miles of land won by:	Obama: 580,000	McCain: 2,427,000
Population of counties won by:	Obama: 127 million	McCain: 143 million
Murder rate per 100,000 residents in counties won by:	Obama: 13.2	McCain: 2.1

Professor Olson adds: "In aggregate, the map of the territory McCain won was mostly the land owned by the taxpaying citizens of the country.

Obama territory mostly encompassed those citizens living in low income tenements and living off various forms of government welfare..."

Olson believes the United States is now somewhere between the "complacency and apathy" phase of Professor Tyler's definition of democracy, with some forty percent of the nation's population already having reached the "governmental dependency" phase.

If Congress grants amnesty and citizenship to twenty million criminal invaders called illegals - and they vote - then we can say goodbye to the USA in fewer than five years.

If you are in favor of this, then by all means, keep this message to yourself.

If you are not, then pass this along to help everyone realize just how much is at stake, knowing that apathy is the greatest danger to our freedom...

This is truly scary!

Of course, we are NOT a democracy. We ARE a Constitutional Republic. Someone should point this out to Obama and all of his followers.

Of course we know he and too many others pay little attention to The Constitution.

There couldn't be more at stake than on Nov 6, 2012.

If you are as concerned as I am, please, pass this along and pray that we will have an election in November. An executive order was declared March 16, 2012 by the sitting president, that he can declare Martial Law whenever HE decides, without getting Congressional approval. This order includes total control by the president over manufacturing, food production, employment, civil service as well as who will and who will not be drafted into the military, with no exceptions.

With all of this in mind we, all American citizens, who want our country to remain “a republic” in actuality as well as name need to be preparing to do what needs to be done!!

Our friends at the Tea Party Express alerted us today to a Democrat strategy memo that outlines how the Democrat Party plans a multi-million dollar smear campaign to RECALL Republican Gov. Scott Walker. The strategy memo requires your attention, so you can understand just what Democrats have in store in this campaign to smear Gov. Walker:

In the memo, Democrats reveal that they have already raised millions of dollars for the RECALL campaign. They furthermore detail the process they used to develop a database of several hundred thousand supporters - both in Wisconsin and in neighboring states - who will be mobilized to walk precincts, man phone banks, make contributions, and turn out at 'mob events' to harass Gov. Walker whenever he makes public appearances.

Furthermore, the Democrats plan to use the same strategy that they have employed against Mitt Romney - they call it the "War on Women" smear and reveal the strategy, along with a strategy of claiming Walker and his associates are guilty of criminal behavior:

Democrats have already launched their website WalkerInvestigation.com to push the argument that Walker is a 'crook' - but most amazingly, there is an entire section dealing with how Democrats will fight vigorously to block the state's Voter ID law. The Democrats admit that if voters are required to prove their identity before being handed a ballot that it will impede their ability to commit voter fraud and manipulate the election:

This is what we are facing, friends. The complete power and force of the state and national Democrat Party, combined with millions upon millions of dollars from state and national unions, plus millions more from left wing groups like MoveOn.org and billionaire liberal donors such as George Soros. We cannot let them win.

We are taking our message to the TV airwaves across Wisconsin. This week we filmed material for even more TV ads at a film shoot in Green Bay, WI, following a recent film shoot in Milwaukee. We are now heading to other parts of the state to film more TV ads.

If you can, contribute! If you can't PRAY!!

Scott Walker predicts: "We'll prevail" in recall election, put name in history books.

By Michael Volpe

CHICAGO – Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker predicted on Friday that not only will he win his recall election in June, but that his victory would encourage other politicians at the state and national level to show more political courage.

"On June 5th, I believe we'll prevail because we have the most powerful thing on our side and that's the TRUTH" Said Walker, "and it will send a powerful message that you can stick your neck out, you can make the tough choices, and there will be voters standing behind you along the way."

"An attendee at the 11 April meeting of the Pottawatomie County Republican Women reported that Nancy McCarter, the Pottawatomie County Clerk, told those present that everyone, with one exception, who showed up at the local election polling stations on 3 April to vote was prepared with a photo ID ready to present to the poll judges. The one person who did not have a photo ID forgot it. She voted provisional and cleared the provisional by later faxing her photo ID to the clerk. Another attendee pointed out that besides reducing the chance for voting fraud, the photo ID helps the poll judges do their job by speeding up the confirmation of name and address as voters are signed in."

A friend in Pottawatomie County sent this to us. This is basically how Kansans feel about Voter ID. With that thought in mind why is the Kansas Legislature leaving this issue in committee and not voting on it as their constituents have ask them to??? CONTACT YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVES & SENATORS!!!! IT IS TIME THEY LISTENED TO US - THEIR CONSTITUENTS - THEIR EMPLOYERS!!!

The No. 1 issue that will defeat Obama

Exclusive: Joseph Farah identifies BHO policy proposal GOP could exploit to victory

<http://www wnd com/2012/03/the-no-1-issue-that-will-defeat-obama/>

There's an issue out there that can ensure Barack Obama is defeated in 2012.

It's not Obamacare.

It's not his religious views.

It's not his commitment to socialist and anti-American causes.

It's not even the birth certificate and his eligibility issues.

I believe the issue that will take Obama down if Republicans make it an issue is his administration's proposed budget cuts for active-duty military personnel and military retirees – but not civilian defense workers.

Do you get the picture?

Obama has tipped his hand. He's showing the entire country what he thinks about our military service people – the people who risk their lives for their country are worth less than civilian defense workers who push papers around in Washington.

Chances are you don't know much about this story. There's a good reason for that. The Big Media don't want you to know, because they recognize the political radioactivity it represents. This is the Death Star for Obama's re-election campaign. If Americans know about this – Republicans, Democrats and independents all oppose him.

Here are the details of the story broken by the intrepid Bill Gertz:

"The Obama administration's proposed defense budget calls for military families and retirees to pay sharply more for their health care, while leaving unionized civilian defense worker' benefits untouched."

"Several congressional aides suggested the move is designed to increase the enrollment in Obamacare's state-run insurance exchanges."

"The disparity in treatment between civilians and uniformed personnel is causing a backlash within the military that could undermine recruitment and retention."

"Significantly, the plan calls for increases between 30 percent to 79 percent in Tricare annual premiums for the first year. After that, the plan will impose five-year increases ranging from 94 percent to 345 percent – more than three times current levels."

Think about this – and imagine how you would campaign against Obama on just this one issue.

U.S. military service people don't get the equipment they need to do their jobs. They don't have the manpower they need to complete their missions. Their families scrimp and sacrifice financially so they can serve their country. They risk their lives and give their lives for their country.

But, according to the Obama administration, unionized civilian defense workers, sitting behind their comfortable desks in Washington, deserve better treatment than our heroes serving overseas in Iraq and Afghanistan and elsewhere.

It's almost unbelievable that Obama could serve up a slow-pitch softball like this for Republicans to knock out of the park.

It's even more unbelievable that none of them has. Which is why I write this column.

Obama needs to pay for this. Whether or not he backs off, whether or not Congress throws his budget out the window, whether or not these cuts are ever enacted, Obama needs to pay a big political price for showing his cards. Republicans need to remind Americans every day that Obama is the guy who wants to cut medical care for soldiers, sailors, Marines and airmen – all while preserving the goodies for Washington bureaucrats.

Men and women who put their lives on the line, who risked their health and well-being, are treated like second-class citizens in ObamaWorld.

He signaled his absolute contempt for the U.S. military – not just the institution of the military, but the active-duty grunts on the front lines.

This is an easy one for the American people to understand.

So where are the Republicans?

Where are the talk-show hosts?

Where is the blogosphere chatter?

Obama has stepped in something very smelly here. Why aren't more Obama critics making hay of it?

Can you understand it?

"We the people are the rightful masters of both Congress & the courts, not to overthrow the Constitution, but to overthrow the men who pervert the Constitution."

Quote by Abraham Lincoln

I sure most of you have heard/seen this, but just in case.....

Michael Richards, better known as Kramer from TVs Seinfeld does make a good point. This was his defense speech in court after making racial comments in his comedy act. He makes some very interesting points.... “

I am proud to be white and an American!

I have been wondering about why Whites are racists, and no other race is...

Proud to be White

“There are African Americans, Mexican Americans, Asian Americans, Arab Americans, etc.. And then there are just Americans.

You pass me on the street and sneer in my direction. You call me 'White boy,' 'Cracker,' 'Honkey,' 'Whitey,' 'Caveman'.... and that's OK..

But when I call you, Nier, Coon, Towel Head, Camel Jockey, Beaner, Gook, Paki, or Chink -you call me a racist.

You say that whites commit a lot of violence against you... so why are the ghettos the most dangerous place to live?

You have the United Negro College Fund. Martin Luther King Day.. Black History Month...

Cesar Chavez Day. You have Yom Hashoah. You have Ma'luled Al-Nabi.

You have the NAACP. You have BET....

If we had W.E.T. (White Entertainment Television), we'd be racists. If we had a White Pride Day, you would call us racists.

If we had White History Month, we'd be racists.

If we had any organization for only whites to 'advance' OUR lives, we'd be racists.

We have a Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, a Black Chamber of Commerce, and then we just have the plain Chamber of Commerce. Wonder who pays for ALL of that??

A white woman could not be in the Miss Black American pageant, but any color can be in the Miss America pageant.

If we had a college fund that only gave white students scholarships... You know - we'd be racists.

There are over 60 openly proclaimed Black Colleges in the US.. Yet if there were 'White Colleges', that would be a racist college.

In the Million Man March, you believed that you were marching for your race and rights. If we marched for our race and rights, you would call us racists.

You are proud to be black, brown, yellow and orange, and you're not afraid to announce it. But when we announce our white pride, you call us racists.
You rob us, carjack us, and shoot at us. But, when a white police officer shoots a black gang member or beats up a black drug dealer running from the law and posing a threat to society, you call him a racist.

I am proud... But you call me a racist.
Why is it that only whites can be racists??

There is nothing improper about this message.. Let's see which of you are proud enough to pass it on. I sadly don't think many will. That's why we have LOST most of OUR RIGHTS in this country. We don't dare stand up for ourselves! It can actually be dangerous!!

BE PROUD TO BE WHITE!

It's not a crime YET... but getting very close!

This is all so very true -- I do get resentful sometimes, but then I remember that God doesn't see us as people of different colors -- we are all the same to God, so I won't worry about it because God's opinion is the only one that really counts!! ~ SAN

April 17, 2012

Dear Friend,

Let's face it. Our liberties don't seem real every year when tax time rolls around. Today is Tax Day: The day when hardworking American taxpayers are required to file our Federal and State Tax returns.

Every year I do this I get more and more angry. It's an annual reminder that the U.S. tax code a broken system. It's an annual reminder that the U.S. tax code a broken system. Washington's tax system is a patchwork of special favors and election year gimmicks.

Did you know the U.S. Tax code is 3.8 million words long! That's nearly five times the size of the Bible. And four times the size of the Complete Works of Shakespeare. It's grown three times larger over the last decade! And Washington elites don't seem at all willing to fix this broken, unfair system. Americans spend 6 billion hours each year complying with the tax code. Even tax professionals who deal with these issues every day differ widely in how to apply tax policy.

The main thing to remember today as you wade through the complicated paperwork and confusing requirements is that all of this came about because politicians can't say no to special-interests or to ever-expanding government.

It's a broken system that can never be fixed. It must be replaced.

And if Congress doesn't take action before the end of the year, we'll be even worse off! A massive tax increase is coming on January 1st. The Death Tax will soar to 55%. The Marriage Penalty returns and the exemption for children will be cut. Five new Obamacare taxes will go into effect. And taxes will increase dramatically for every American taxpayer.

The total tax increase would be nearly $5 trillion! Did you get that? On January 1st, our taxes will increase by $5 trillion if Congress doesn't act now!

Tax Day is a great time to consider where we are as a country and where we need to go from here. Americans are overtaxed, and politicians keep taking advantage of them. Washington politicians and elites who control it can't stop themselves from taking things away from you to build power and influence for themselves.

Thomas Jefferson warned all of us when he said this:

"To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and in our comforts, in our labor and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labor of the people, under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy."

Well, we aren't in a happy state in this country. And we won't be until we throw away the tax code and eliminate the worst example of government out of control - the IRS.

In Liberty,

"Would it not be better to simplify the system of taxation rather than to spread it over such a variety of subjects and pass through so many new hands." --Thomas Jefferson, letter to James Madison, 1784

What's the Matter with Kansas? The Ghost of Kathleen Sebelius lives.

TAKEN FROM: MILTON WOLF.com The Wolf Files

Will Kansas Governor Sam Brownback pick up where Kathleen Sebelius left off?

Health care by government mandates. That's the Barack Obama - Kathleen Sebelius way. Before Sebelius became Secretary of HHS, she served as Kansas governor and before that, state insurance commissioner. During her tenure, she imposed one mandate after another on what services health insurance companies must provide. The result? Sebelius chased nearly a dozen insurance companies out of the state and left 40,000 Kansans without insurance due to the increased costs of her mandates.

That's the Kathleen Sebelius health care way. Will the new Kansas Governor, Sam Brownback, embrace the Sebelius government-centered society approach to health care?

The Republican-controlled Kansas House of Representatives recently passed by HB 2764, yet another government-imposed health insurance mandate, by an overwhelming margin, 92 to 30. Mandates are always for good causes that poll well. This one happens to be for autistic children. I don't know the inner working of the senate, but based on the house margin, I'd guess it will pass.

I reject the Barack Obama - Kathleen Sebelius approach to health care.

Advocates of the autism mandate miss why these families do not already have adequate coverage in the first place. They say it's because of the "greedy" health insurance companies but does that make sense? Auto insurance in Kansas, free from these oppressive mandates, is affordable. Are we to believe that car insurance companies are any less "greedy" than health insurance companies? In fact, does there exist any company that is not "greedy"?

The cure for greed is competition. Kansans can purchase car insurance from any company in America and therefore these companies are forced to compete for their business, including keeping premiums low and service high. Health insurance escapes free market competition and instead plays by government mandate and price-control rules. Which is more effective? It's not even close.

As the government health insurance mandates expand, the cost of insurance to Kansas families increases. This is unavoidable. The statists solution to the problem they've created is to impose still more mandates to help the people who were victimized by the first round of mandates. It's a vicious cycle but there's a better way.

Eliminate all insurance mandates. Allow Kansans -- free Americans -- to purchase whatever insurance they choose. This eliminates the state boundary rule that grants an oligopoly to Kansas health insurance companies. It's ironic that those who claim Kansas health insurance companies are "greedy" are the same people who grant them an oligopoly in the state which, by its very nature, raises costs. The best antidote to their supposed greed is to force them to face competition from companies in all 50 states. The giant sucking sound you'll hear will be the rapidly falling insurance premium costs.

I don't have any inside information but I suspect that Governor Brownback will sign this latest Kathleen Sebelius government mandate into law.

It's time conservatives grow spines. And brains. The Left always accuses conservatives of being heartless and turning their backs on helpless kids. Sadly, self-described conservatives have been making the Lefts' arguments for them. It's just as easily refuted.

When supporters of mandates say you're turning your back on helpless kids, ask them why they are turning their backs on dads with heart attacks or moms with breast cancer or kids with leukemia. Because among the 40,000 Kansans victimized by Sebelius' mandates were these patients who could no longer afford health insurance. Ask them how well the Sebelius approach to health care has worked. Ask them how it could be that car insurance companies are run by angels but health insurance companies are run by greedy devils -- or if maybe the difference is the government-imposed mandates and the oligopoly they create.

Kansas patients deserve a system that works rather than one that just makes us feel good about ourselves. It's time we judge laws by results, not intentions.

In fact, Gov. Brownback has picked up where Former Governor Sebelius left off. The medical plan being implemented in Kansas right NOW is OBAMACRE with the wording scrambled. There are a few good things, concerning Kansas teaching facilities. Sorry, this program IS ObamaCare with a different name. Check out KS Rep. Charlotte O'Hara's web site.

"I think Congressmen should wear uniforms, you know, like NASCAR drivers, so we could identify their corporate sponsors."

WOLF: What happened to my Barack Obama?

Supposedly post-racial America still sabotages young black men

Barack Obama is not just our first bi-racial president, he was supposed to be our first post-racial president. Instead, he joins forces with race hustler Al Sharpton and escalates a tragic shooting into an inflamed, full-blown national race fight. What happened? Not everyone in the president's family is so inclined toward knee-jerk racial profiling. Through the grace of marriage and the miracle of adoption, our family - the president's and mine - boasts a rich ethnic diversity: European, American Indian, black, Chinese, Korean, Latino and Asian Indian. Only in America would a family look like ours.

Yet sadly, President Obama, rather than celebrating this fact, embraced those who prey upon our demons rather call on our better angels. For 20 years, the president faithfully sat in pews absorbing hate-filled messages from the Rev. Jeremiah Wright, such as how the "U.S. of KKK A." lied about "inventing the HIV virus as a means of genocide against people of color."

Is it any wonder, then, that Mr. Obama's knee-jerk reaction to the recent shooting of Trayvon Martin was very similar to his knee-jerk reaction to the disorderly-conduct arrest of black Harvard professor Henry Louis Gates? In both cases, without having the facts, the president somehow just knew that the lighter-skinned participants were racist.

The mainstream media's disgraceful attempts to manipulate the public rather than inform them of the events surrounding the Trayvon Martin shooting have been well-documented and are too numerous to detail here. A few highlights include ABC News using on-screen graphics to hide injuries to the head of alleged shooter George Zimmerman, which at least partially corroborate Mr. Zimmerman's account that he shot Trayvon in self-defense. NBC News doctored a recording of a 911 call attributed to Mr. Zimmerman to falsely indicate racism.

Perhaps most egregious, though, is the media's manipulative use of outdated photos to portray Trayvon as an innocent baby-faced boy and Mr. Zimmerman as a criminal. That a 17-year-old died unnecessarily is a tragedy whether Mr. Zimmerman acted justifiably or criminally, but Trayvon's tragedy did not begin on Feb. 26, the night he was shot.

Recent photos of Trayvon - the ones the media don't want you to see but those Trayvon chose to identify himself - tell a sad story. The once-smiling, baby-faced boy adopted a street "gangsta" persona with gold teeth and tattoos. Tweeting under a racially inflammatory handle, Trayvon boasted of his descent into violence, misogyny, prostitution and drugs.

It is thoroughly heartbreaking to see so many young black men in America adopt this destructive lifestyle rather than pursue the American dream, and it's time we find the courage to ask ourselves why. Mr. Obama piously declared, "All of us have to do some soul-searching." He's right, but not for the reason he thinks. Racism, real or imagined, cannot explain why the black teenage unemployment rate is a staggering 40 percent and the American dream seems hopelessly out of reach.

Complex problems rarely have simple solutions, and this is no exception. Moreover, decades of failed social engineering prove there is no government program that can replace a loving mother and father who teach their kids to respect themselves and others. While this problem certainly is multi-factored, there are two areas in particular where our government is actively sabotaging our young black men: (1) forcing them into woefully inadequate education and (2) erecting prohibitive barriers to gainful employment.

The federal experiment in education is an abject failure. Established in 1980, the Department of Education is a relatively new entity in American history. Since its founding, federal spending on education has risen "stratospherically," as the Cato Institute describes it, and still standardized test scores remain flat. The money can be replaced, but the lost lives of young victims cannot. Shift those dollars to the states (and from the states to school boards) and let your kids' principal and teachers call the shots rather than Washington bureaucrats.

The federal minimum wage law effectively has removed the bottom rungs from the ladder of success. The black teenage unemployment rate of 40 percent is roughly double that of white teens. In the 1940s and 1950s, when in some quarters a black man couldn't sit at a lunch counter, let alone sit behind the desk in the Oval Office, black and white teen unemployment were both around 10 percent. The difference? The essential absence of minimum-wage laws enabled teens to get their first jobs - and skills - without the government pricing them out of the job market.

Meanwhile, where is our president as America erupts into yet another unnecessary race fight? Race hustler Al Sharpton screams that protests should "escalate" and the same New Black Panther Party to whom Mr. Obama gave a free pass for obvious voter intimidation against whites offer a $10,000 reward for Mr. Zimmerman - "dead or alive" - and still there's deafening silence.

America deserves a president who will calm nerves and channel our passions rather than inflame them, a president who has the courage to challenge destructive forces in America even if they are politically popular, a president who celebrates that America produces families like his own. America deserves the post-racial president Barack Obama promised he would be.

Subject: FW: Obama May Be In Deep Trouble. With Chief Justice John Roberts...

Anthony G. Martin - North St. Paul News

According to sources who watch the inner workings of the federal government, a smack-down of Barack Obama by the U.S. Supreme Court may be inevitable.

Ever since Obama assumed the office of President, critics have hammered him on a number of Constitutional issues. Critics have complained that much, if not all of Obama's major initiatives run headlong into Constitutional roadblocks on the power of the federal government.

Obama certainly did not help himself in the eyes of the Court when he used the venue of the State of the Union address early in the year to publicly flog the Court over its ruling that the First Amendment grants the right to various organizations to run political ads during the time of an election. The tongue-lashing clearly did not sit well with the Court, as demonstrated by Justice Sam Alito, who publicly shook his head and stated under his breath, 'That's not true,' when Obama told a flat-out lie concerning the Court's ruling.

As it has turned out, this was a watershed moment in the relationship between the executive and the judicial branches of the federal government. Obama publicly declared war on the court, even as he blatantly continued to propose legislation that flies in the face of every known Constitutional principle upon which this nation has stood for over 200 years.

Obama has even identified Chief Justice John Roberts as his number one enemy, that is, apart from Fox News and Rush Limbaugh, Beck, Hannity, and so on. And it is no accident that the one swing-vote on the court, Justice Anthony Kennedy, stated recently that he has no intention of retiring until 'Obama is gone.'

Apparently, the Court has had enough. The Roberts Court has signaled, in a very subtle manner, of course, that it intends to address the issues about which Obama critics have been screaming to high heaven. A ruling against Obama on any one of these important issues could potentially cripple the Administration. Such a thing would be long overdue.

First, there is ObamaCare, which violates the Constitutional principle barring the federal government from forcing citizens to purchase something. And no, this is not the same thing as states requiring drivers to purchase car insurance, as some of the intellectually-impaired claim. The Constitution limits the FEDERAL government, not state governments, from such things, and further, not everyone has to drive, and thus, a citizen could opt not to purchase car insurance by simply deciding not to drive a vehicle. In the ObamaCare world, however, no citizen can 'opt out.'

Second, sources state that the Roberts court has quietly accepted information concerning discrepancies in Obama's history that raise serious questions about his eligibility for the office of President. The charge goes far beyond the birth certificate issue. This information involves possible fraudulent use of a Social Security number in Connecticut, while Obama was a high school student in Hawaii .

And that is only the tip of the iceberg.

Third, several cases involving possible criminal activity, conflicts of interest, and pay-for-play cronyism could potentially land many Administration officials, if not Obama himself, in hot water with the Court. Frankly, in the years this writer has observed politics, nothing comes close to comparing with the rampant corruption of this Administration, not even during the Nixon years. Nixon and the Watergate conspirators look like choirboys compared to the jokers that populate this Administration.

In addition, the Court will eventually be forced to rule on the dreadful decision of the Obama DOJ suing the state of Arizona. That, too, could send the Obama doctrine of open borders to an early grave, given that the Administration refuses to enforce federal law on illegal aliens.

And finally, the biggie that could potentially send the entire house of cards tumbling in a free-fall is the latest revelation concerning the Obama-Holder Department of Justice and its refusal to pursue the New Black Panther Party. The group was caught on tape committing felonies by attempting to intimidate Caucasian voters into staying away from the polls. A whistle-blower who resigned from the DOJ is now charging Holder with the deliberate refusal to pursue cases against Blacks, particularly those who are involved in radical hate-groups, such as the New Black Panthers, who have been caught on tape calling for the murder of white people and their babies. This one is a biggie that could send the entire Administration crumbling--that is, if the Justices have the guts to draw a line in the sand at the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

PLEASE PASS THIS ON TO EVERYONE ON YOUR E-MAIL ADDRESS LIST!!!

In passing this on it is no wonder Americans of every race and political persuasion are disgusted with our Federal Government, it is not hard to understand the mistrust and the disgust. Obama and his administration should be impeached and the quicker the better. Obama only knows the blame game, now it is the Tea Party that caused him to spend our country into debt so deep it may never recover.

He is a President that had a super majority in both houses until last November. And because of that he jammed pork barrel projects and spending of every kind of an entitlement bill one can't imagine along with Obama Care down our throats with spending that is unattainable.

He is borrowing 42 cents on every dollar we owe and spend, wake up America we have become a third world communist country.

HOW DO YOU LIKE HIS CHANGE NOW??

WE CAN STILL HAVE HOPE, BUT, PLEASE, IF THERE'S MORE CHANGE MAKE IT BE IN REVERSE!!

'In God We Trust'

"The confidence of the people will easily be gained by a good administration. This is the true touchstone."
