I found an article stating Trump is going to CHANGE NFL Tax Status – as reported on several different sites. I am sorry to report that according to “truth or fiction” this is FALSE. If the tax-status of NFL had been increased I am sure it would have been reflected in their “standing/kneeling” positions during the playing of the National Anthem and attitude toward the USA flag, however, NO INCREASES HAVE TAKEN PLACE IN THE NFL TAX STATUS. It seems President Trump believed the NFL received tax deductions, however that is NOT TRUE. Since there were NO DEDUCTIONS there will be NO INCREASES. DARN!!

THE EMENY AMONGST US

"When Krauthammer provides his opinion and facts, he's definitely someone to listen to!" DS

Oct 11 2017

Krauthammer is about the best and brightest journalist and political analyst we have, in my opinion. His words of warning in the below message should be taken seriously and spread throughout the country so as many of our citizens as possible are made aware of what is happening right under our noses!

An article from the New York Post:

I do not understand how living in a country with its democracy established over 200 years ago, and now, for the first time in history, suddenly we have one of our former presidents set up a group called "Organizing for Action" (OFA).

OFA is 30,000+ strong and working to disrupt everything that our current president's administration is trying to do. This organization goes against our Democracy, and it is an operation that will destroy our way of governing. It goes against our Constitution, our laws, and the processes established over 200 years ago. If it is allowed to proceed then we will be living in chaos very much like third world countries are run. What good is it to have an established government if it is not going to be respected and allowed to follow our laws?

If you had an army some 30,000 strong and a court system stacked over the decades with judges who would allow you to break the laws, how much damage could you do to a country? We are about to find out in America!

Our ex-president said he was going to stay involved through community organizing and speak out on the issues and that appears to be one post-administration promise he intends to keep. He has moved many of his administration's top dogs over to Organizing for Action.

OFA is behind the strategic and tactical implementation of the resistance to the Trump Administration that we are seeing across America, and politically active courts are providing the leverage for this revolution.

OFA is dedicated to organizing communities for "progressive" change. Its issues are gun control, socialist healthcare, abortion, sexual equality, climate change, and of course, immigration reform.

OFA members were propped up by the ex-president's message from the shadows: "Organizing is the building block of everything great we have accomplished. Organizers around the country are fighting for change in their communities and OFA is one of the groups on the front lines. Commit to this work in 2017 and beyond."

OFA's website says it obtained its "digital" assets from the ex-president's re-election effort and that he inspired the movement. In short, it is the shadow government organization aimed at resisting and tearing down the Constitutional Republic we know as AMERICA.

Paul Sperry, writing for the New York Post, says, "The OFA will fight President Donald Trump at every turn of his presidency and the ex-president will command them from a bunker less than two miles from the White House."

Sperry writes that, "The ex-president is setting up a shadow government to sabotage the Trump administration through a network of non-profits led by OFA, which is growing its war chest (more than $40 million) and has some 250 offices nationwide."

The OFA IRS filings, according to Sperry, indicate that the OFA has 32,525 (and growing) volunteers nationwide. The ex-president and his 'wife' will oversee the operation from their home/office in Washington DC.

Think about how this works. For example: Trump issues an immigration executive order; the OFA signals for protests and statements from pro-immigrant groups; the ACLU lawyers file lawsuits in jurisdictions where activist judges obstruct the laws; volunteers are called to protest at airports and Congressional town hall meetings; the leftist media springs to action in support of these activities; the twitter sphere lights up with social media; and violence follows. All of this happens from the ex-president's signal that he is heartened by the protests.

If Barack Obama did not do enough to destroy this country in the 8 years he was in office, it appears his future plans are to destroy the foundation on which this country has operated on for the last 241 years.

If this does not scare you, then we are in worse trouble than you know.

So, do your part. You have read it, so at least pass this on so others will know what we are up against. We are losing our country and we are so compliant. We are becoming a "PERFECT TARGET" for our enemy!

~ Charles Krauthammer

As I see it we must fight this tooth and nail!! At this point I don't know how or where, but fight it!!

As I see it, the problem is our children have NOT BEEN TAUGHT how our Constitution, Bill of Rights, etc. were written and intended to work. Therefore, when they see or read or are taught this crap that goes against the Constitution, etc., they don't realize what is wrong about it. I'm not saying we must go back to what was taught when I was in school, but we MUST have something similar. Basic Federal Government was taught in the 5th grade – just enough to give us an impression. As a high school, Junior we had an American History class, then as Seniors we had a Government class. These were basic History and Government classes, but we got the general idea. I don't know what is taught now – can YOU help me find out??

A friend sent me the following after a discussion the teaching and "manner" of teaching in our grades 1 thru 12 in today's schools.

Apple's "Siri" had been found to be giving erroneous definitions. Of course, "millennials" and all the "liberal progressives" are mindless idiots who fail to look beyond what the internet provides. It goes back to my favorite soapbox "we must know the meaning of words," not simply repeat them. In addition it is no wonder that the schools are so anxious to get everything onto the computers and in digital formats... that will allow for faster indoctrination to their ultimate agenda. This is quite a contrast in definitions!!!

Apple's "Siri" was asked the definition of fascism: "An authoritarian and nationalistic right-wing system of government and social organization. (In general use) Extreme right-wing, authoritarian, or intolerant views or practice."

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary (c)1981 provides this definition: "A political philosophy, movement, or regime that exalts nation and race above the individual and that stands for a centralized autocratic government headed by a dictatorial leader, severe economic and social regimentation, and forcible suppression of opposition.”

Quite a difference, huh?? Get our youth on the correct track and keep them there! How??

TRUMP: IT'S TIME TO STRONGLY LOOK AT WELFARE REFORM

"... People are taking advantage of the system and then other people aren't receiving what they really need to live, and we think it's very unfair to them."

by Jack Davis<sup>[1]</sup><sub>SEP</sub>on | October 16, 2017 at 12:59pm

One of President Donald Trump's many campaign promises on the road to the White House was that of reducing the dependency on welfare and implementing ways in which to reform it.

It was during his candidacy that Trump said work requirements were an important aspect for federal welfare programs, and on Monday, he said his administration will look "very strongly" into creating the first systemic welfare reform since 1996.

"That's becoming a very, very big subject and people are taking advantage of the system," Trump told reporters prior to a Cabinet meeting, according to the Washington Examiner. "Then other people aren't receiving what they really need to live, and we think it's very unfair to them."

And — as the proposal suggests — there will be many aspects the administration and the president will have to work out. "It's going to be a very big topic under this administration and it's started already," he said. "We had a lot of recommendations that we're going to be making."

"You'll be hearing about them very shortly," Trump added.

It was in August that the Trump administration acted to re-impose work requirements for Americans on welfare.

That move would effectively revoke an Obama-era policy that sought to give waivers to states that would exempt some welfare applicants from having to show they were either looking for work or in a job training program. It would also restore the conditions of the 1996 welfare reform law.

"The waiver option offered by the Obama administration is being replaced today by an expectation that work should always be encouraged as a condition for receiving welfare," said Steven Wagner, the Health and Human Services Department's acting assistant secretary for children and families, according to The Washington Times.

And Trump's White House has made no secret of its push to get Americans working.

"If you're on food stamps and able-bodied, we need you to go to work," White House budget director Mick Mulvaney said in May.

Mulvaney also claimed that "in excess of 6 million people" should be able to get full-time jobs in the Trump economy, a staggering proposal for a first-time president.

Yet Trump said during his candidacy for president last year that America needed to overhaul not just its programs, but its priorities.

"We have to create incentives that they actually do much better by working," Trump told Sean Hannity in 2015. "Right now, they have a disincentive. They have an incentive not to work."

"The problem we have right now, we have a society that sits back and says we're not going to do anything," he added, according to Real Clear Politics.

"And eventually the 50 percent cannot carry, and it's unfair to them, but cannot carry the other 50 percent," he added.

What do you think?

This came to US from Conservative Tribune and is not proven fact --- BUT it Remains a possibility!!

REPORT: OFFICIALS BELIEVE MEXICAN ILLEGALS BEHIND MASSIVE CALIFORNIA FIRES | by BENJAMIN ARIE<sup>[1]</sup><sub>SEP</sub>ON | OCTOBER 16, 2017 AT 7:09PM

The recent wildfires in California have caused widespread destruction and even death as they rage across many regions of the state. That situation would be dire under any circumstances, but now new information may make the fires even more shocking.

There is a strong possibility that the wildfires were set deliberately, and may be linked to drug cartels operating north of the border.

The investigative news site GotNews recently dug into the situation, and pointed out some very disturbing facts. As their report pointed out, California's wildfires typically occur in December and January, yet the October series of fires has been among the largest and most destructive to date.

The recent wildfires in California have caused widespread destruction and even death as they rage across many regions of the state. That situation would be dire under any circumstances, but now new information may make the fires even more shocking.

There is a strong possibility that the wildfires were set deliberately, and may be linked to drug cartels operating north of the border.

The investigative news site GotNews recently dug into the situation, and pointed out some very disturbing facts. As their report pointed out, California's wildfires typically occur in December and January, yet the October series of fires has been among the largest and most destructive to date.

“These cartels, which run a large share of the world's multi-billion dollar illegal drug trade, certainly have the means to pull off an attack like this.”

That news source did not specifically name the officials who are considering this possibility, but the facts do make the scenario very likely.

Both the New York Times and NBC News have pointed out that recreational marijuana grow operations — which are legal under California law — have been all but destroyed by the flames.

On top of destruction to the actual plants, a significant amount of cash has also gone up in smoke, and the legal grey area of marijuana at the federal level means that almost nothing is insured.

“Many of the region's farms, including those that harvest cannabis, have been scorched, including those in Sonoma County and in Mendocino County, the center of California's marijuana industry,” reported the Times.

“Mendocino is one of three California counties that comprise Emerald Triangle, where much of the United States' marijuana is produced,” the newspaper continued.

In other words, if the powerful Mexican cartels wanted to strike their new, legal competitors and remove them from the market, that area would be exactly where to do it.

“This couldn't hit at a worse time because a lot of these property owners have just spent a lot of money going through the licensing process... trying to get compliant before the first of the year,” Robert Frichtel, CEO of General Cannabis Corporation, explained to NBC.

“They probably have invested with the expectation that this crop would help recoup a lot of those expenses,” he continued.

Now, much of that crop is gone... and the playing field is completely slanted back toward illegal drug syndicates in Mexico.

Marijuana legalization is of course a controversial issue, and there are no doubt some conservatives who have no problem seeing drug crops go up in flames.

However, it's worth remembering that the state and its residents made this product legal, and one of the great parts of America's separation of powers is that states can try different things free from endless federal mandates.

Many of the people who invested in the marijuana industry were entrepreneurs and small businessmen trying to deliver a product where there is an undeniable demand. The simple fact is that families have now lost their livelihoods and life savings because of these suspicious fires.

If the evidence continues to point to sabotage by illegal drug cartels, the state and the entire country have a very good example of why border security and law enforcement is so important.

Cartels do not stop at one product, but diversify and expand until their criminal fingers are in nearly every profitable industry. The American dream depends on a level playing field — and until violent and illegal activity is stopped, hardworking citizens are the ones who will be hurt.

Please press “Share on Facebook” if you believe border security is important, especially in light of this information! Do you think the evidence points to illegal cartels?

REMEMBER – This is thought/possibility NOT a proven fact. Personally, I have thought these fires were set from the beginning, but had not thought of Mexican Illegals. There were just too many all at once for them to be otherwise. How can ANYONE do such a thing? How can money be so important to risk so many lives and livelihoods?? I guess when your own livelihood is at risk anything can be possible – especially when your livelihood is illegal anyway.

TRUMP ADMINISTRATION JUST DEFINED LIFE AS “BEGINNING AT CONCEPTION”
 by Kim Smith on 10/18/17 at 10:10AM

The Department of Health and Human Services has made a bold move by adding three words to a draft of its new strategic plan by declaring that human life begins at conception.

“HHS accomplishes its mission through programs and initiatives that cover a wide spectrum of activities, serving and protecting Americans at every stage of life, beginning at conception,” the document states.

The recognition of life beginning at conception is a radical departure from the Obama administration’s version of the document, which stated: “HHS accomplishes its mission through programs and initiatives that cover a wide spectrum of activities, serving Americans at every stage of life.”

Twice the new draft refers to the unborn. Once in “Strategic Goal 1,” which aims to reform, strengthen and modernize the nation’s health care with the department’s “ultimate goal” being “to improve healthcare outcomes for all people, including the unborn, across healthcare settings.”

The draft mentions the unborn again when discussing strategies to support the healthy development and well-being of children and youth, by working to “protect women and their unborn children from harm and harmful exposures during pregnancy.”

The language in the document leaves little doubt about where the Trump administration stands on the pro-life issue.

The plan set strategic goals for 2018 through 2022.

With language like this, the Trump administration is making its pro-life stance be known, and you can bet that liberals will have a meltdown over it.

Democrats will claim that his move is yet another assault on women’s health care, but it actually sends a strong message about the well-being and life of women and the unborn, who do not have a voice.

The language in the draft could influence future policy making about controversial pro-life issues, something that no doubt makes Democrats extremely nervous.

But make no mistake, this change is a huge victory for conservatives and the unborn.

H/T Breitbart

Please like and share this story on Facebook and Twitter to spread the word about how President Trump just reversed eight years of Obama’s legacy with three words.

What do you think about this policy change?

What do I think?? I think it is about time these unborn/voiceless living humans are recognized as living beings. Thank YOU, President Trump!! Now you tell me what you think.

I found this online, and it so expresses how I feel that I had to show it to you!

Wow, this is really good. Whoever wrote it is right on the mark.

I would not attend the super bowl (or is it bowel?) if someone offered me free tickets and offered to pay expenses. I would not pay to attend a football game. Ditto basketball, baseball, or hockey. All fantasy! To the NFL and its players:

If I have brain cancer, I don’t ask my dentist what I should do. If my car has a problem, I don’t seek help from a plumber! Why do you think the public cares what a football player thinks about politics? If we want to know about football, then depending on the information we seek, we might consult with you, but even a quarterback doesn't seek advice on playing his position from a defensive tackle!

You seem to have this over inflated view of yourselves, thinking because you enjoy working on such a large-scale stage, that somehow your opinion about everything matters. The NFL realizes the importance of its "image" so it has rules that specify the clothes and insignia you can wear, the language you use, and your "antics" after a touchdown or other "great" play. But somehow you and your employer don't seem to care that you disgrace the entire nation and its 320 million people in the eyes of the world by publicly disrespecting this country, its flag, and its anthem! The taxpaying citizens of this country subsidize your plush work environments, yet you choose to use those venues to openly offend those very citizens.

Do you even understand what the flag of this country means to so many of its citizens before you choose to "take a knee" in protest of this "country" during our national anthem?

You may think because you are paid so much that your job is tough, but you are clueless when it comes to tough. Let me show you those whose job is really tough.

You are spoiled babies who stand around and have staff squirt Gator Aid in your mouths, sit in front of misting cooling fans when it's warm, and sit on heated benches when it's cold. That's not "tough." That's pampered.

You think that you deserve to be paid excessively high salaries, because you play a "dangerous" game where you can incur career-ending injuries. Let me show you career ending injuries!

You think you that you deserve immediate medical attention and the best medical facilities and doctors when injured. Let me show you what it's like for those who really need and deserve medical attention.

You think you have the right to disrespect the flag of the United States, the one our veterans fought for, risked limbs and mental stability to defend, in many cases died for. Let me show you what our flag means to them, their families, and their friends.

You believe you are our heroes, when in reality you are nothing but overpaid entertainers, who exist solely for our enjoyment! Well, your current antics are neither entertaining nor enjoyable, but rather a disgrace to this country, its citizens, all our veterans and their families, and the sacrifices they have made to ensure this country remains free. You choose to openly disgrace this country in the eyes of the rest of the world, yet with all your money, still choose to live here rather than in any other country. People with even the slightest amount of "Class" will stand and respect our flag. Where does that put you? You want to see heroes... here are this countries heroes!

You can protest policies, the current government, or anything else you choose, that is your right. But when you "protest" our flag and anthem, you are insulting the nation we all live in and love, and all those who have served, been injured, or died to keep it free. There is nothing you can do or say that can make your actions anything more than the arrogance of classless people, who care about themselves more than our country or the freedoms for which our veterans and their families have sacrificed so much, to ensure you have the "right" to speak freely. Our country is far from perfect, but if you can point to any other country where your freedom and opportunities are better than they are here, then you just might want to go there and show respect for their flag!

If you respect America and all those who have sacrificed so much to keep her free, please forward this to your friends and relatives. Eventually, it should end up in the mailboxes of those who choose to disrespect our country, its service members, our veterans, their families, and all of us who appreciate the freedoms America represents.

"As long as I own this team you will stand with hand over your heart." Stated by Clark Hunt, CEO and owner of the Kansas City Chiefs. Mr. Hunt called a meeting with all of his coaches, players and field staff and firmly told them, "You are all simply paid performers on a stage and that field is my stage!! You will stand, with your hand over your heart and with respect, when our Country's National Anthem is being played or you will no longer be a Kansas City Chief, a Coach for the Kansas City Chiefs or have any association with the Chiefs Organization! I will immediately fire you, no matter who you are! You can make your political statements off the field, but when you're employed by me and I'm signing your check, I demand that you make our fans proud and not embarrass them."

If all team owners had the guts to stand up and lay down the law to their players, coaches, workers and all receiving their paychecks from them we would have no problems. We all know the players have swollen heads and think they are Gods on earth, but IF and WHEN that paycheck disappeared they would again become normal people. Where else in the world do the owners have the opportunity to own, manage, and prosper in a like business?? If the tickets stopped selling they would sing a different tune.

He Fights.... by Evan Sayet | July 13, 2017

American Consequences

My Leftist friends (as well as many ardent #NeverTrumpers) constantly ask me if I'm not bothered by Donald Trump's lack of decorum. They ask if I don't think his tweets are "beneath the dignity of the office."

Here's my answer: We Right-thinking people have tried dignity. There could not have been a man of more quiet dignity than George W. Bush as he suffered the outrageous lies and politically motivated hatreds that undermined his presidency. We tried statesmanship. Could there be another human being on this earth who so desperately prized "collegiality" as John McCain? We tried propriety – has there been a nicer human being ever than Mitt Romney? And the results were always the same. This is because, while we were playing by the rules of dignity, collegiality and propriety, the Left has been, for the past 60 years, engaged in a knife fight where the only rules are those of Saul Alinsky and the Chicago mob.

I don't find anything "dignified," "collegial" or "proper" about Barack Obama's lying about what went down on the streets of Ferguson in order to ramp up racial hatreds because racial hatreds serve the Democratic Party. I don't see anything "dignified" in lying about the deaths of four Americans in Benghazi and imprisoning an innocent filmmaker to cover your tracks. I don't see anything "statesman-like" in weaponizing the IRS to be used to destroy your political opponents and any dissent. Yes, Obama was "articulate" and "polished" but in no way was he in the least bit "dignified," "collegial" or "proper."

The Left has been engaged in a war against America since the rise of the Children of the '60s. To them, it has been an all-out war where nothing is held sacred and nothing is seen as beyond the pale. It has been a war they've fought with violence, the threat of violence, demagoguery and lies from day one – the violent take-over of the universities – till today. The problem is that, through these years, the Left has been the only side fighting this war. While the Left has been taking a knife to anyone who stands in their way, the Right has continued to act with dignity, collegiality and propriety. With Donald Trump, this all has come to an end. Donald Trump is America's first wartime president in the Culture War.

During wartime, things like "dignity" and "collegiality" simply aren't the most essential qualities one looks for in their warriors. Ulysses Grant was a drunk whose behavior in peacetime might well have seen him drummed out of the Army for conduct unbecoming. Had Abraham Lincoln applied the peacetime rules of propriety and booted Grant, the Democrats might well still be holding their slaves today. Lincoln rightly recognized that, "I cannot spare this man. He fights."

General George Patton was a vulgar-talking, son-of-a-bitch. In peacetime, this might have seen him stripped of rank. But, had Franklin Roosevelt applied the normal rules of decorum then, Hitler and the Socialists would be five decades into their thousand-year Reich.

Trump is fighting. And what's particularly delicious is that, like Patton standing over the battlefield as his tanks obliterated Rommel's, he's shouting, "You magnificent bastard, I read your book!" That is just the icing on the cake, but it's wonderful to see that not only is Trump fighting, he's defeating the Left using their own tactics. That book is Saul Alinsky's Rules for Radicals – a book so essential to the Liberals' war against America that it is and was the playbook for the entire Obama administration and the subject of Hillary Clinton's senior thesis. It is a book of such pure evil, that, just as the rest of us would dedicate our book to those we most love or those to whom we are most indebted, Alinsky dedicated his book to Lucifer.

Trump's tweets may seem rash and unconsidered but, in reality, he is doing exactly what Alinsky suggested his followers do. First, instead of going after "the fake media" — and they are so fake that they have literally gotten every single significant story of the past 60 years not just wrong, but diametrically opposed to the truth, from the Tet Offensive to Benghazi, to what really happened on the streets of Ferguson, Missouri — Trump isolated CNN. He made it personal.

Then, just as Alinsky suggests, he employs ridicule, which Alinsky described as "the most powerful weapon of all." Most importantly, Trump's tweets have put CNN in an untenable and unwinnable position. They need to respond. This leaves them with only two choices. They can either "go high" (as Hillary would disingenuously declare of herself and the fake news would disingenuously report as the truth) and begin to honestly and accurately report the news, or they can double-down on their usual tactics and hope to defeat Trump with twice their usual hysteria and demagoguery. The problem for CNN (et al) with the former is that, if they were to start honestly reporting the news, that would be the end of the Democratic Party they serve.

It is nothing but the incessant use of fake news (read: propaganda) that keeps the Left alive. Imagine, for example, if CNN had honestly and accurately reported then-candidate Barack Obama's close ties to foreign terrorists (Rashid Khalidi), domestic terrorists (William Ayers), the mafia (Tony Rezko) or the true evils of his spiritual mentor, Jeremiah Wright's church. Imagine if they had honestly and accurately conveyed the evils of the Obama administration's weaponizing of the IRS to be used against their political opponents or his running of guns to the Mexican cartels or the truth about the murder of Ambassador Christopher Stevens and the Obama administration's cover-up.

So, to my friends on the Left — and the #NeverTrumpers as well — do I wish we lived in a time when our president could be "collegial" and "dignified" and "proper"? Of course I do. These aren't those times. This is war. And it's a war that the Left has been fighting without opposition for the past 50 years. So, say anything you want about this president - I get it - he can be vulgar, he can be crude, he can be undignified at times. I don't care. I can't spare this man. He fights for America!

This article was sent to me by a cousin. I traced the article back the "TOWNHALL" site. It so completely expresses my feelings. It is time all citizens of the USA understands what is and has been happening in the USA since before the Civil War. Why does the Democratic Party want to destroy the greatest Country that the world has ever known?? Personally, I think they are so stupid that they don't realize what the USA and the World would be like if everyone gave in and did as the "left" wants. In my opinion the whole world would crumble into war and disorder. AGENDA 21!! For the sake of the world let us pray the left is NEVER successful!! Continue to struggle/fight/win for the USA and the World!!! I do believe the LORD is with us, but his time may not be our time!! FIGHT & PRAY for the USA to be the strongest, best, most GOD-fearing Country the world has ever known.

OBAMA HID NEARLY HALF A MILLION DOCS ABOUT BIN LADEN RAID TO ENSURE ELECTION

by BENJAMIN ARIE | NOVEMBER 3, 2017 AT 5:02PM

Is there any shady trick or scheme Democrat politicians won't use to try to stay in power?

Just days ago, a bombshell story showed that Hillary Clinton used mobster tactics to bully the DNC and secure the 2016 nomination.

Now, a new report is shining the spotlight on questionable actions that Barack Obama took to skew public opinion in his favor during the 2012 race against Mitt Romney.

In a detailed exposé in The Weekly Standard, journalist and author Stephen F. Hayes showed that Obama buried a staggering number of documents from Osama bin Laden's compound, and essentially lied to the American people about the real status of Al Qaeda in order to win votes.

Finally, thanks to the Trump administration, those documents are now coming to light.

A key piece of Obama's re-election was the elimination of bin Laden and the claim that the administration had Al Qaeda on the run. Afghanistan was won, the incumbent president boasted, and Islamic terrorism was waning. The path forward was to lift sanctions on Iran and move forward.

There was one big problem: The administration knew it wasn't true, but repeated it anyway.

For the Obama Administration to tell such huge lies to the citizens is unforgiveable!! But we MUST remember and NEVER FORGET --- that is the way the Democrats work. They work on LIES, TRICKERY, MURDER AND DECEIT. The DEMOCRATS DON'T RECOGNIZE TRUTH AND HONESTY WHEN IT HITS THEM IN THE FACE; OR maybe I should say THE DEMOCRATS ONLY LIE AND DECEIVE MORE WHEN HONESTY CONFRONTS THEM. That is what they have done since President Clinton's time in office. As time goes by it has just gotten worse and more so. Isn't it about time they were prosecuted for their crimes?? My guess is: If prosecution started happening to the underlings a lot of them would start vanishing – vanishing before they can testify against those at the top. Well, one way to look at it – Start at the top before the bottom disappears!! Get the TOP ones first or the bottom ones will be eliminated & no one can testify.

*I have just been watching the CBS report of the Sunday shooting at a Church in the small town of Sutherland Springs, Texas. The Governor of Texas was being interviewed. Gayle King, of CBS News "This Morning", was asking questions that were very pointedly desiring the Governor to speak of blaming guns for this senseless shooting. She failed completely!!! Magnificently!!! The Governor told Gayle and all of us that what the survivors, town people, all attending the vigil, wanted and were doing was turning to the LORD and praying!! It could not have been better put or more pointedly put that the LORD is the answer to our problems and NOT stronger laws of guns control!! THANK YOU, GOVERNOR!!!

Here is a report of the slaying:

HATE CRIME HITS TEXAS CHURCH – A PROBLEM OF EVIL by Thomas

Gallatin

As parishioners worshipped Sunday morning at First Baptist Church in Sutherland Springs, Texas, a crazed individual attacked the church, killing 26 people before he was shot and chased off by a neighbor who responded to hearing shots fired. The attacker, who fled in his SUV, was eventually forced off the road and was found dead in his vehicle from a [self-inflicted] gunshot wound. The number of dead would most certainly have been greater had not a good guy with a gun shown up to confront and end the rampage.

The attacker was a 26-year-old former member of the U.S. Air Force who had been discharged for bad conduct in 2014 after a domestic violence conviction. He was court-martialed in 2012, spent a year in confinement and took a reduction in rank. He was married and a father of at least one young child. Several people who knew him have described him as an "outcast" but not a loner, and one who "preached his atheism" online. His online social profile does indeed lend support to the view that he was a vehement and, it now seems, militant atheist. There are also unconfirmed rumors that he was sympathetic toward Antifa. Given Antifa's weekend "resistance" rallies, that makes us wonder...

Texas Gov. Greg Abbott stated, "I don't think this is a random act of shooting, a randomly chosen location, but obviously someone who is very deranged." President Donald Trump responded from Japan to the news, saying, "Our thoughts and prayers are with the victims and families in today's horrible... attack. In dark times, and these are dark times... Americans do what they do best: they pull together. We join hands, we lock arms, and through the tears and through the sadness, we stand strong." He continued, "All Americans pray to God to help the wounded and the families of the victims."

And of course, predictably, before any investigation had taken place or the facts were known, the anti-Second Amendment crowd quickly sought to politicize the atrocity by laying blame for the crime on law-abiding Americans' right to bear arms, the National Rifle Association and Republicans. Never mind the fact that the killer's domestic violence conviction already made it illegal for him own or possess a firearm or ammunition. Once again, gun control advocates ignorantly assign responsibility for the crime to the availability of firearms, irrespective of the actual laws on the books. A killer's decision isn't their focus.

Yet this atrocity should once again remind everyone that evil is real and no law can rid it from the hearts and minds of people.

As this article points out this shooter broke several existing laws covering the purchase and possession of the guns and ammunition in his procession. What difference would more laws have made?? Restricting citizen ownership of firearms and ammunition would have only prevented the rescue by a neighbor who prevented the slaughter of the remaining people in the Church. GOD be with the neighbor, those he saved, and all the town folks. LORD, be with them all.

WHITE HOUSE PRESS SECRETARY SARAH SANDERS ATTACKED OVER 'CHUNKY' WEIGHT, SOUTHERN ACCENT

by Tracy Mastaler | November 3, 2017 at 3:44pm

Personal attacks have been launched against White House press secretary Sarah Huckabee Sanders by two liberal male columnists who ridiculed her weight and Southern accent, according to The Daily Caller.

In a Wednesday column in the Los Angeles Times, columnist David Horsey remarked on Sanders' appearance, writing that she "looks more like a slightly chunky soccer mom who organizes snacks for the kids' games."

"Rather than the fake eyelashes and formal dresses she puts on for news briefings, Sanders seems as if she'd be more comfortable in sweats and running shoes," Horsey wrote.

"Yet, even if Trump privately wishes he had a supermodel for a press secretary, he is lucky to have Sanders," he added.

Horsey also illustrated the cartoon that accompanied his column, which featured a caricature of Sanders dressed in a military uniform and standing behind a podium, entitled "Big Mother..."

After facing backlash over his comments, Horsey issued an apology that was posted ahead of his column on the Los Angeles Times' website.

"I want to apologize to Times readers — and to Sarah Huckabee Sanders — for a description that was insensitive and failed to meet the standards of our newspaper," Horsey wrote.

"It also failed to meet the expectations I have for myself," he continued.

Horsey concluded, "It surely won't be my last mistake, but this particular error will be scrupulously avoided in my future commentaries.”

The “offending description” was removed from Horsey’s column.

On Friday, Sanders was mocked by a columnist from The New York Times who took issue with her Southern accent.

After contending that Sanders “needs a vocabulary lesson,” Frank Bruni wrote that she is “serving a function other than communication, which turns out not to be her forte.”

“To listen to her pronounce ‘priorities’ is akin to hearing the air seep out of a flat tire, and she leaves half of the consonants on the curb,” Bruni added parenthetically, ridiculing Sanders’ accent.

“She’s awful at this,” Bruni wrote, referring to Sanders’ capabilities as White House press secretary. “But that makes her an excellent fit for an administration in which mediocrity, inadequate experience and nepotism run rampant.” It is obvious that these so called “reporters” are NOT very intelligent or competent. Oh, hey, I just described the entire Democrat Party and their thought process. I’m smarter than I knew.
